1a. COURSE SUMMARY

This course is a continuation of Inglés I, and is designed to help students develop their skills in English to allow them to master their university studies. The course also focuses on assisting students in achieving greater independence in their language learning with a view towards life-long learning as English language specialists.

1b. COURSE DESCRIPTION

As a continuation of Inglés I, this course seeks to help students improve their command of English with the aim of reaching a B2/C1 level and beyond. Attention is also paid to language learning strategies for learner autonomy. Students will do a variety of exercises to practice the different aspects of English and they will also sit for a final examination. Since all activities are conducted in English, a good working knowledge of the language (Common European Framework level B2 or higher) is assumed upon entering the course. A communicative approach will be followed through an integrated syllabus that links topics, communicative functions, and grammar.

Prerequisites and recommendations:

Since all activities are conducted in English, the course assumes a good working knowledge of the language (Common European Framework of Reference level of at least B2) upon entering the course. Students will be required to submit an official certificate of English proving that they have achieved a level B2 in the four communicative skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking) prior to the final assessment, as the level is an integral part of the subject.

2. OBJECTIVESGeneral Competences:

1. Ability to work autonomously.
2. Ability to plan and manage time.
3. Skills in the use of information and communication technologies.
4. Ability to be critical and self-critical.

6. Ability to work in a team.
7. Ability to evaluate and maintain the quality of work produced.

Specific Competences:

1. To identify and use grammar structures accurately.
2. To become aware of main differences in English and Spanish grammatical structures.
3. To improve extensive and intensive listening skills at B2/C1 level and beyond.
4. To improve interactive and non-interactive speaking skills at B2/C1 level and beyond.
5. To use strategies needed for oral expression in different contexts.
6. To develop top-down and bottom-up processing skills at B2/C1 level and beyond.
7. To develop higher writing skills.
8. To be able to deliver a short speech in public

9. To demonstrate the ability to understand, both orally and in writing, texts at the B2-C1 level of the European Framework for Languages.
10. To demonstrate the ability to express oneself, both orally and in writing at the B2 –C1 level of the European Framework for Languages.

4. TEACHING AND LEARNING METHODS

This course follows the communicative approach through an integrated syllabus, meaning that students are encouraged to focus on language as communication and that topics, communicative functions, and grammar are linked in so doing. Grammar is exploited by means of analysis and practice activities. Reading and writing tasks will be mostly carried out as homework to be discussed and reviewed during the class time.

Student workload: 200 hours:

Class-contact hours:

60 hours

Self-study hours:

140 hours

Learning activities

Class sessions	Classes will take a communicative, participative format, emphasizing students' involvement and use of the English language in all kinds of communicative situations.
Tutorials	Students can attend group or individual tutorials as and when necessary providing a more personal, individual attention to their learning and where, again if necessary, extra activities and resources will be recommended in order to enhance their progress.
Language Laboratory	Several activities may be done in the language lab in order to improve pronunciation, intonation and rhythm, as well as to carry out both individual and pair work on oral skills.
Individual student work	Students will work on the development of their skills, as well as be responsible for remedial work in their problem areas independently of the teacher, but with his/her guidance. They will also need to prepare projects alone or in groups.

5. ASSESSMENT

Assessment criteria

Evaluation will measure students' proficiency in English as well as their ability to self-direct their studies, and their awareness of the processes involved in learning a language.

PRE-REQUISITES:

- i. Oral and written ability to understand texts and express oneself in clear, fluid and accurate English at the B2 level is necessary at the start to the semester. Nevertheless, it is possible to participate in Inglés II even if a student has not passed Inglés I. Students in this situation are advised to talk to their professors early in the semester.
- ii. Prior to the final assessment, students enrolled in Inglés II must submit a certificate for an official exam in English proving that they have achieved the level of B2 in each of the four communicative skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking). Only certificates included in the recommendation by the CRUE are accepted and there are two periods for submission so students will be provided complete information in the first semester. For those individuals who, for some reason, cannot certify a B2 English language level, the possibility of an internal exam will be offered at the end of the term. Information will be provided in April.

Grading criteria

The final grade of the students will depend on their active and valuable participation in class and the written reflections on their learning process (20%) and their performance in the oral, reading, listening and writing projects and activities (20% each).

Assessment procedures:

The course will be marked by continuous assessment except for those students who are granted evaluation by final exam, according to the University regulations. Students who follow the continuous assessment process will be assessed through:

- Learning log
- Oral projects
- Writing projects
- Reading activities
- Listening activities
- Individual and group work in class

These will be assessed through class or homework activities and some of them can also be assessed in a final exam

Students who cannot attend classes and, thus, cannot follow continuous assessment will have a final exam that will count for 100% of the final mark, where all the competences stated in section 2 will be assessed. These students must first be granted permission to do so, according to the regulations of the University, and must contact their teacher at the beginning of the course in order to obtain information on the conditions of the final exam. Students must process their request at the Dean's office in the first two weeks of the semester.

The final exam for these students will contain the following elements:

- Grammar & vocabulary activities: 20%
 - Listening comprehension test: 20%
 - Writing: 20%
 - Reading comprehension test 20%
 - Speaking test: 20%
- Total: 100%

Students will also have to have obtained a pass mark in all these elements. The re-sit examination in June follows the same structure as the final exam

Students who do not pass the test in May or who are unable to certify a B2 level in all four skills in time for the first grading period will also have the chance to take a final exam in June. The content and format will be similar to the complete final exam described here.

IMPORTANT:

- Students need to have acquired the desirable level of competence/skills indicated in this syllabus in each of the competences specified in the assessment criteria. For those who follow the continuous assessment process, attending classes ~~and tutorials~~ is compulsory. Anyone who misses ~~any assignment or~~ more than 5 classes will fail the continuous evaluation ~~and, thus, the course~~. These students will be allowed to take complete exam in June if they have certified their level by that point.
- Furthermore, students are responsible for completing assignments on time. Late work ~~may be penalised. will not be accepted or it will automatically receive a lower mark, unless the instructor determines that a late assignment is justified. Additional information will be provided in the first week of class.~~
